Fronted by the songwriting brother duo of guitarist Kevin Gordon and vocalist Mike Gordon, Major Fantasy delivers vintage rock and roll that will get you wondering if you've heard this tune before, or does it just sound like a classic?

Winners of the 2018 Best In Vancouver tournament, Major Fantasy's influences include Zeppelin, Bowie, the Beatles, and the Who. Formed in early 2016, Major Fantasy consists of old friends reconnecting nearly a decade after high school with the sole goal of creating great music. Consistently packing bars in downtown Vancouver, Major Fantasy is looking to take the next step in 2019; play outside their home market, and record their long-awaited debut EP.

With the flamboyant makeup and gut-wrenching vocals of Mike serving as a focal point, Kevin Gordon's virtuosic guitar skills are also on full display throughout every song. Mike Tull provides John Bonham-esque drums that ebb and flow with the emotion of each song while Eric Miller provides sparkling melodies in B3 organ and electric piano. Not to be outdone, Ryan Stokes provides rich unique tones and precision perfect solos from rhythm guitar while Steven Tuerlings lays down one groovy bass line after another.

Major Fantasy will be releasing their debut EP in 2020.
