

Major Fantasy – Biography

In 2016, one man’s dream of bringing together 6 of his best friends to create music became a reality, and Major Fantasy was born. They are one of Vancouver’s up and coming emerging rock bands with notable performances include headlining shows at the Roxy Cabaret, the Portside Pub, and the Okanagan Pride Festival. Inspired by the caliber and technical complexity of 60’s and 70’s classic rock songs, Major Fantasy adds a modern twist: their music evokes nostalgia while the lyrics evoke emotions of a modern-day rock star. When they’re not on stage, they’re busy working on their debut album!

Michael Gordon – Lead Vocals

Michael began his musical education in piano at age 7, and was writing music by the age of 11. In high school, he participated in junior band, senior band and the jazz band. He developed his personal sound in his early 20’s and also performs under the name ‘Littlefoot’. Michael also worked alongside other musicians as a songwriter, including multiple projects put on by an Edmonton-based entertainment company called Odd Lot Puppetry Co.

Kevin Gordon – Lead Guitar / Backup Vocals

Kevin is a classically trained guitarist, having trained with the Royal Conservatory since the age of 10. He played at his local church, Jazz Band, Concert Band, and took courses in music composition. Recipient of the Pacific Audio Visual music scholarship, he studied Audio Engineering, Mixing, Music Notation, Music Business, and Recording Techniques at PAVI. Kevin is also an experienced DJ, and has produced music across various genres.

Mike Tull – Drums / Backup Vocals

Mike’s creativity spans through a wide range of disciplines including drumming, singing, audio-visual technique, lighting, and music producing. His past work includes recording a live performance by Colonel Chris Hadfield at Science World, spearheading open mic nights at Riley’s Pub in Liverpool UK, and working as an audio-visual technician at the Bass Coast and Shambhala music festivals. Mike holds a Diploma in Advanced Music Production from the Nimbus School of Recording Arts and worked as an audio-visual technician for FMAV. Because of his background he has taken on the role of audio-visual technician for Major Fantasy. Outside of drums and backup vocals he is focused on the quality of overall stage sound, performance, and aesthetics.

Eric Miller – Keyboard

Growing up in a musical household, Eric began playing the piano at the age of 5. In 2007, he completed Grade 8 Piano of the Royal Conservatory program and achieved honours with distinction. He was a resident rock pianist at Country Meadows restaurant. During the day, Eric works for Tourism Richmond as a marketing strategist.

Ryan Stokes – Rhythm Guitar

Classically trained in the Royal Conservatory for piano, Ryan began playing the guitar in high school. He applies his profound understanding of music theory to create rich tones, adding to the ‘fantasy’ element of his music. You can spot him from the back of the crowd with his beaming smile whenever he’s performing on stage. Ryan is a savior even when he’s not playing music, he’s off saving lives as a fire fighter in training.

Steven Tuerlings – Bass

Playing the bass since high school, Steven has a natural ear for building accompanying bass lines that completes the structure of rock and roll. He is also a graphic designer, having created commissioned work for local musicians, companies and non-profit organizations such as Music Heals.
